" When a true genius appears in this world, you may know him by this sign, that the dunces are all in confederacy against him. "

Jonathan Swift

" Discovery consists of seeing what everybody has seen and thinking what nobody has thought. "

Albert von Szent-Gyorgy

" Wear the old coat and buy the new book. "

Austin Phelps

" The man who goes alone can start today; but he who travels with another must wait till the other is ready. "

Henry David Thoreau

" Let us endeavor to live that when we come to die even the undertaker will be sorry. "

Mark Twain

" Certain flaws are necessary for the whole. It would seem strange if old friends lacked certain quirks. "

Goethe

" Love is not just looking at each other, it's looking in the same direction. "

Antione de SaintExupery

" The right to swing my fist ends where the other man's nose begins. "

Oliver Wendell Holmes

" If I have seen farther than others, it is because I was standing on the shoulders of giants. "

Isaac Newton

" Doing easily what others find difficult is talent; doing what is impossible for talent is genius. "

Henri-Frederic Holmes

" Each man takes care that his neighbor shall not cheat him. But a day comes when he begins to care that he does not cheat his neighbor. Then all goes well...he has changed his market-cart into a chariot of the sun. "

Ralph Waldo Emerson

" Be smarter than other people, just don't tell them so. "

H. Jackson Brown, Jr.

" Destiny is not a matter of chance, it is a matter of choice; it is not a thing to be waited for, it is a thing to be achieved. "

William Jennings Bryan
